

Contemporary art & archaeology

UHI

Archaeology
Institute

A unique masters programme linking the fields of contemporary art and archaeology

The MA Contemporary Art and Archaeology encourages students to take a critical, collaborative and interdisciplinary approach to artmaking and research-led creative practice.

The programme has been developed and directed by a specialist team of academics and visual artists based in Orkney, and allows students to explore material and visual culture, arts, and heritage, through the unique combination of Contemporary Art and Archaeology.

Specialist modules immerse you in an established community of practice, allowing you to build a bespoke MA and develop as a uniquely interdisciplinary Art and Archaeology practitioner.

Find out more at archaeologyorkney.com/study

Special features:

- Developed and directed by a specialist team of academics and visual artists based in Orkney, allowing access to world-famous archaeology.
- The course is delivered online and can, therefore, be studied from anywhere in the world.
- Specialist optional modules will allow you to tailor your course to your own interests.